“ I remember when I first met her. I was a senior in high school. I went to the grille ask for an application and she was the only one back there at the time. She said well hello with a big big smile and asked if she could help me. That big big smile was what got me to want to beget friend. She was a wonderful woman and good hearted. Ima miss seeing her big smile when I come to town. She also had the biggest hugs. I love her and gonna miss her.
