“ It has been a few months since Rob has passed away, and we find ourselves talking about him now more than ever.

Rob was my stepfather, he was my children's Grandfather, and the love of my mom's life. We will never truly be able to accept what kind of cards he was dealt in his life, but he sure knew how to make the best of every situation.

We miss him every single day, the silly text messages, Grandpa Rob getting lost on video games with the kids for hours, listening to some crazy folks talk at dialysis and gettin' the real scoop on the family.

The last few years of Rob's life were challenging for him, and for my mom. Yet, through all of this- we thank you Rob for shielding us from other folks who wish to see anything but your family love and support you, and honor your wishes both in life, and afterwards.

We all miss him so much. I know in time we can heal from this, but in the meantime I will pay a visit to share more photos every now and again.
