

Ronald C. Faulk

March 31, 1947 - August 18, 2016

Southern Pines - After nearly 5 years, Ronald C. Faulk lost his battle with cancer on August 18th. The son of the late Harvey C. Faulk and Elsie Thomas Faulk, he was born on a farm in Lee County, on March 31, 1947. He was preceded in death by his parents, and his brother Tommy Faulk.

A 1965 graduate of Sanford Central High School, he attended NC State University where he graduated in 1970. He began his career as an instructor at Central Carolina Technical Institute and went on to work on the family farm for many years. Throughout his career he remained tied to his agricultural roots by working with Mooreman Feed Company, Green Seed, and Farm Implement in Laurinburg. He finished his professional career at McBrayer in Aberdeen. Ronald was a very generous person and loved to contribute to his community wherever he lived. He was very proud of his work with Church Community Services and the Christmas Cheer program Scotland County. Ronald never met a stranger, was a terrific salesman, and the king of repeat customers.

He loved traveling with his wife Norma, farming, the Wolfpack, buying and selling cars, reading and discussing interesting books, and most recently shopping on Amazon. Most of all, he loved his family and enjoyed every minute he was able to spend with them. Over the years, he helped his kids with more moves than you can count across the southeast. He was always there to lend a hand and much needed expertise.
