“ Its been 19 days since you passed and I still wish you were still here. Being strong was never my strongest suite but I try. I never cried in front of the family, a tear here and there would fall but I sucked it up and continue on. Only when I'm alone do I let it go, I break down and ask for your guidance and strength to keep going. This is one of the hardest journey I have ever faced but I know I will get through this cause you are always with me. I just wished I could of seen you and hold you one last time. I do hope I still make you proud of me and I do hope I never disappoint you with my future path that I take. I will always love you and cherish you in my heart....Airborne All The Way!!! Love you Daddy, we will see each other again.
